Introduction

My name is Alex Collier, I want to thank you very much for coming, this is going to be a very special treat for me.

I love these small, intimate settings here, these living room types of things. I am very comfortable and when I am in my element I like to talk, and I am definitely in the mood for a talk fest. The information that I shared this morning, I am going to go over it again, briefly, because I went through it so quickly and some of you weren't there.

Essentially what we are going to be talking about is the 22 [extraterrestrial] races. The book that will be ready this spring is going to be called "Defending Sacred Ground II - ET 22".

I have been wanting to do this book for ten years and now it's time to do it. The reason it's time is that there is so much going on in our solar system that we all need a score card. I hope to be able to share the knowledge that has been shared with me as to who these beings are and how they relate specifically to earth, to us.

In a nut shell, we are a composite of a lot of different races, 22 to be exact. It is a physiological fact that there are 22 different body types on the planet. And that is the result of the extraterrestrial races. I cannot share everything that I have in two hours, because I am sharing the stage tonight with Mike Russ. But I will be around and available, and the information will be put on the website. You will have it as soon as it is done, and proofed and edited. There will be a bound book version of that, but by then you will already have the information. If it is something that you want to purchase at that point to give to friends, it will be available. It will be for free, none the less. I'm not going to go into how it all started for me, for thirteen years I have been telling that story and I refuse to tell that story any more. If you want to know, you can go to the website, http://www.bibliotecapleyades.net/esp\_andromedacom.htm, all the information is there, including Book One, which you can download for free.

Now, earth history, we are taught a very, very shallow version of earth history.

We are also taught that we evolved from a single cell, that essentially we were an accident. All of us are just an accident. Something happened, something really weird but yet something miraculous happened to a couple of chimpanzees and ta-da here we are! It should be so simple.

In fact, I like the real version much better than the concocted version. What I am going to start with is some of the earth timelines of history and I am going to blow through specific periods and just move it through to prove a point. This will be much more specific in the book. Earth formation: we will start with the Precambrian time, 4.5 billion years ago to 554 million years ago.

Earth taught history

The earth is forming, along with other planets in the solar system.

Earth is being born, life is awakening. The first tectonic plates are beginning to move. Fungus, plants, animals and organisms are developing and the atmosphere is becoming enriched with oxygen.

Andromedan taught history

An ancient race, known as 'the Founders', who the Andromedans and the Pleiadians believe are an ancient race called the Paa Tal, is on an engineering program whereby environments of planets and terra-forming is being done.

They are doing this to make these planets and star solar systems suitable and habitable for organisms and for life, rendering ecosystems that are filled with hydrogen, oxygen, methane, and ammonia.

Ecosystems, some being oxygen, some being methane, some being ammonia, and some being hydrogen. These are all gases for the introduction and colonization of micro-organisms, manites and all types of life forms. Self replicating machinery and the bombardment by comets and planetoids to change the rotation and the chemistry of the planets.

We will get to the self-replicating machinery here in a little bit. The practice and engineering of removing moons to alter a planet's rotation and moving planets closer and further from their sun's to either decrease or increase radiation received by the planets.

Now I want you to know that that specific engineering fate of moving planets closer and further away from the sun, moving moons, adding moons is a practice that is absolutely in full swing today throughout the galaxy and in other galaxies. It is solar system building. This happens a lot. There are races, even the Andromedans, that are capable of creating a solar system. All projects, it appears, were designed to enter many star systems and many planetary bodies habitable for organic life. Small machines have been discovered that were built so long ago that no one really knows for sure who built them. They cannot be replicated and no one knows exactly how they were built.

I will give you an example of the Andromedans.

The Andromedans are approximately 43 to 45 hundred years more advanced than we are technologically. That's in our years. A year for us equals 365 days. This is one rotation around our sun. The Andromedans count years in a completely different way. In fact almost all the extra-terrestrials do.

In their concept of age, what they consider a year is when every cell in their body has been fully duplicated, replicated. Now if we did that one year would be equal to seven years in our body. It takes approximately 34 years for their bodies in our time to replicate every cell in their body. So it is hard to give you exact dates of when they say something happened to put it into our timeline of years. In reality, if I say it was 4 thousand years ago, it's a lot longer than that.

But they have had a very hard time explaining to me in our earth time, because they don't deal with the concept of time. They just don't. I'm giving you these numbers in earth years just to give you an idea of how vast our history is. Amazingly these machines still work. The machines do not have a name in the English language. They don't even have a symbol that we could comprehend. It has been explained to me that it is an anti-matter machine. It creates matter.

It creates atoms which then creates molecules, which then creates physicality. And these are actual machines.

They are like computers where you can program it for what you want; and this machine will literally bring it forth and manifest it, and there it is, physically there. If each one of us had one of these machines, it would be like winning the lottery every day. Mike likes to do VWs. He could make himself a new VW as soon as the new models came out, as soon as he knew what he wanted.

I could create a babysitter so that my wife and I could go out. Apparently there are seven of these actually working and seven different races have one. These are archeological finds, discoveries, these atom making machines, for lack of a better word. There is one here on the planet.

They also discovered advanced building complexes, very large machinery and complete terra forming ecosystems. Earthlike organic life is much less common than hydrogen gas ecosystems in our galaxy because we are limited, oxygen (O<sup>2</sup>) ecosystems, are limited to the geological presence of water.

For O<sup>2</sup> life forms, which everything is on this planet, there has to be water. The most precious thing that we have is our ecosystem, our biosphere. The second most precious thing we have is of course the water. When we get to Nibiru, our entire planet used to be fresh water. The oceans were salinated. And it was the Nibiru from the star system of Bootes that did that because they wanted to control the water. They salted the sea.

At the time that they did this there was only 4% fresh water, and they had total control over it. It took 36 years to completely salinate the oceans. And it also gave time for all the life forms in the water to adapt very slowly. But we couldn't drink the water after that. This is all in our years, that is the only way I will present this to you; otherwise it will get too confusing. Hydrogen ecosystems are much more abundant as is methane because they are not complicated ecosystems. O<sup>2</sup> ecosystems are very complex, the most complex in the galaxy.

Archeological evidence, records and legends point to the Founders, the Paa Tal, as the creators and caretakers of this galaxy.

This disappearance and/or extinction of the Founders appears to be deliberate. And what that means is, how it's been explained to me, we all know what disappearance means. To the Andromedans, when they refer to extinction, if there is no physical record of them on third density, they are extinct on third density.

That doesn't mean that they are gone. It could be that they ascended or evolved to a higher frequency or they dropped down to a higher frequency to create third density and when they were done they left. But they are extinct on third density. In sharing this particular information that I will be sharing in the next year it is important to try to stretch yourselves to think holographically here. There are so many implications to this information and it is difficult to try to express that because the English language is so limiting, to try to give you a concept of how this was all done. When the Paa Tal apparently left according to the archeological record, other life forms, sentient life forms, reptilian, human, plasmic, methane life forms all began to appear; and do appear in our galaxy in full form. Now just think about that, they appear in full form. That means that they came from someplace else or they were brought from someplace else.

There was no millions and millions of years of evolution into this. And this is the same problem that our archeologists have on planet earth. They keep espousing evolution, but there is just no proof of evolution in the geological, archeological record. There just isn't. Things appear fully formed. It's amazing stuff.

Now are the Paa Tal archangels, are the Paa Tal the gods? Nobody know what they are which is why they just refer to them as 'The Founders,' because they don't know. They don't know.

The Andromedans do say that there is a "creation's creator". They, in their traditions, say that it does not carry a dominant male frequency. In their opinion, it carries a dominant female frequency. In their opinion, and I tell you they are real men, the creator is a goddess. It does exist. So we blew through that.

The Paleozoic Era, 554 million years ago to 245 million years ago: a dramatic explosion of diverse, multi-celled animals. They put that because suddenly everything is there, it's in the geological record. They don't know how it got there, where it came from, but its there, so they just say "Well, it just exploded, there it is!"

All these different things show up out of nowhere.

Species appear with all living animals and species appear within a few million years. Again, there is no evolutionary process here. They just begin to see them in the archeological record, and each existing on different parts of our modern continents. Now at the time that this was happening, the North and South Pole were different.

The planet was literally lying on its side. It had already had a pole shift, one of its many pole shifts. This is where the physical north and south pole rotate usually following a magnetic pole shift, if it is done on its own.

If it doesn't do it on its own that is because a planetoid or an asteroid has hit the planet, made it roll and then what happens is, the magnetic poles will either correct it over time and make the planet rotate back, or the magnetic poles will follow. I do not understand the mechanics of that.

The west coast of North America ran east and west along the equator. Africa was the South Pole.

Suddenly, during this period 245 million years ago, 90% of all marine and animal life becomes extinct: animal life, not plant and fauna, marine and animal life. You would think that if something dramatic happened that everything would be affected. But that is not what happened. It was mammal and animal life. The same period, 544 million to 245 million: the ET history, the Andromedan ET history.

Races in the solar system began to develop space travel. Most are only able to travel within their own star systems. Some, however, are able to travel outside of their respective systems and have begun contact and discovery of other cultures. The start of trade within Star Systems begins. Trade routes are established and negotiated. The sharing of technology has begun and the development of new systems of space travel has also begun because now the space colonies, the different races that have been established here that came in fully formed have figured out how to get off their own planets and now they are talking to other people getting different perspectives and they are sharing ideas and sharing opinions. I've not touched on this and I won't touch on it in this lecture, but there were also a lot of misunderstandings that went on here, especially between the hydrogen cultures and the O<sup>2</sup> cultures. And I will explain why there were some misunderstandings later on when we get into this. Treaties were forged between star systems and races. One particular race of sentient beings which was much more advanced in space travel, set out to explore the galaxy, that is the Alpha Draconian, the Ciakar.

They were the very first, according to the Andromedans, to actually get off planet. And they were at the time the most advanced. They are an incredible race... They just have some incredibly ridiculous prejudices and biases.

But that doesn't take anything away from the fact that as a culture they have done some incredible things and a lot of other races have learned from them as well. Their space craft, at the time, were hollowed out moons and planetoids which they refurbished, built out, created their own internal ecosystems and fitted with propulsion.

Some of that using fuel, which is not oil like we have here, but it was some kind of a gel that was mined in their star system. And they created kinetic energy engines; it's a type of electricity in my understanding.

Then the Mesozoic Era which is 245 million years ago to 65 million years ago:

Earth history

'Mesozoic' means middle animals.

It is the time in which the world's fauna changed drastically. It didn't change before, but now suddenly it does. And great change in terrestrial vegetation. The dinosaurs evolved, well, they show up out of nowhere, and evolve in the Triassic and then Jurassic Eras, only then to become extinct.

Another planet hitting asteroid hits the Earth in the Atlantic Ocean off the coast of what is now known as Columbia. Now, were they deliberate? No one seems to know if they were or not.

But what is interesting is that every time the planet gets hit with an asteroid or there is a pole shift, there is a radical change in the Earth or its ecosystem and what happens is, it becomes more and more friendly for human life.

244 million years ago we just could not live on this planet. There were just too many things out there that would have hurt us.

Extraterrestrial History

245 million years ago to 65 million years ago: Many planetary civilizations have full space travel. Interplanetary trade is extremely [well] established; the need for natural resources increases and causes the exploration of the galaxy by advanced sentient beings.

Space travel has been in progress and trade for over 17 million earth years at this point; 17 million years. Look at what we have accomplished in 4 thousand years. And we know we have been held back and we also know that there is technology that has been hidden from us. The most well established star races are the Ciakar of Alpha Draconis or Draco, the Orion star civilizations and the Lyra Vega star system. Colonization is in full swing.

Many planetary alliances set up rules of colonization and are reaching further and further out into the galaxy. So here 245 million years ago our star brothers, our ancestors, because they are, because we are the sum total of 22 of these races, our ancestors already had space travel...

They were setting up rules of colonization amongst themselves. It is just amazing to me. The discovery of space highways; what our scientists theorize to exist as wormholes. There are space highways. The discovery of these is made during this period.

To date, 17 have been discovered in our galaxy alone, 17 wormholes. And for those who don't know what we are talking about, this is our galaxy [points to star chart], the little dots are the stars, and what you have are tunnels that go to different parts of the galaxy.

Just to give you a little example,... our scientists theorize that if you can tap into one you are on the other side of the galaxy in no time, in a blink. Like the movie "Stargate". Several of these connect to other galaxies. And we all have to assume that at least one of these connecting tunnels would be to the Andromedan Galaxy, which would be over here. So you have a hole, you have a hole here, now you have a way to get here, incredibly fast.

So it is not a situation where you get into your rocket and by the time you reach your destination everyone is dead of old age, because the galaxy is huge and it is expanding all the time.

But as the galaxy expanded many of these tubes of focused time, that's the Andromedan perspective of what a wormhole is: tubes of focused time. I cannot explain it to you any more than that. I do have some notes that are still stored away in a storage unit in another state where they have had to be put for safety and I have not gotten them yet. In fact there are three boxes of notes, let's not even go there. Some of these tubes have snapped, in other words, as the galaxy expanded, there were breakages in these wormholes, or space highways. No galactic races to the present time, and this is as of 11 months ago Earth time, knew how they were built or who built them and they can't be repaired, because we don't know how they were built. Nobody knows how they were built.

There is an assumption by many that the Founders created them. Which is how they were able to do all of the terra-forming and eco-building in the galaxy in preparation for life to be introduced here.

There is an assumption that that's who built it. The truth is we don't really know for sure. It could have been built by somebody from before them, we don't know. According to the Andromedans, third density, as we know it, is 21 billion years old. The Universe that we know of, which includes all of the dimensions, is 21 trillion years old in Earth years, which is a staggering number. According to the Andromedans only two of the wormholes have not snapped in our galaxy. So out of the 17, two are still fully operational. As trade increased, the spread of life forms also takes place. The experimentation of transplanting life forms and vegetation is in full swing. Now let's go back to the dates.

245 million to 65 million years ago

Our extraterrestrial ancestors are now transplanting the vegetation and life forms from other systems to other star systems.

The transplanting of life forms is only with life that has potential. Now what their actual definition of what that potential is, I can't tell you because I don't know. But according to Moraney (or Moranae) this potential can only develop in complex ecologies. And by far the most complex ecology or ecosystem in the galaxy is O<sup>2</sup>, oxygen based, which is what we are.

Truly complex ecosystems only occur in a relatively small number of planets in the galaxy. Now that might be several billion planets, but when you take into account how many suns and how many actual star systems we have, it is in fact, a small amount even though to us we would say,

“My God, there’s two hundred billion earths out there?”

That’s a staggering number to us. But in the big scope of things it is actually a very small amount, because the hydrogen ecosystems by far out weigh all the others. It follows that a complex, planet wide ecosystem is the next most valuable thing in the Universe to consciousness. Species, however, come and go. But a truly rich biosphere will endure as long as it is not compromised. Dinosaurs, birds, fruit trees are brought to our solar system and transplanted on the three ecosystems in our solar system.

They are: Earth, Mars and Uranus. All developed extraterrestrial races have already impressed on their civilizations that conservation of bio-spheres was and is simply a necessity. This is 245 million to 65 million years ago. They were already teaching their children about conservation of the ecosystem.

The Cainozoic Era: 65 million years ago to present.

We are going to get through this and then we are going to get really down into some fun stuff.

Earth Taught History

Sometimes called the age of mammals, because the largest land animals and mammals show up at this time. It is also called the age of flowering plants, the age of insects, the age of fish and the age of birds.

Andromedan Taught History

Our solar system is being visited more and more.

Three very complex ecosystems exist here already, we’ve already covered that. The first full time self-contained bio-sphere, called an “Eden”, and I’m going to use that word, because that’s what the Orion’s called it, that’s what the Nibiru called it, and that’s what the Pleiadians called it.

An E-Den, which is like a garden. It’s a fully transplantable bio-sphere, having everything they need to exist somewhere else. We do not really appreciate how smart our ancestors are, because they don’t always travel in very large space craft. But what they have learned to do is travel light and make sure that whatever it is they need they have or they can grow. Now, virtually every mother ship has an internal ecosphere.

We see the scout craft. We see the four, the five, the hundred mile craft.

The hundred mile craft may have some kind of an ecosphere inside of it because it has a crew and that crew needs to eat, so they will create a park-like setting and ecosphere inside those space craft. Most of the craft that have hit the Earth are just little scout ships.

If a hundred mile mother ship hit the Earth, we would have a pole shift and everybody would know about it. But the very large ships... I will give you the example of the Andromedan mothership.

They are complete spheres and on the inside they are complete worlds unto themselves. In the center of these crafts, and they may have as many as three, they will have ecosystems, park-like, as big as 21 miles long. The one that I saw was 21 miles from one end to the other. It [the mothership] was 900 miles and for me to literally see every inch of that ship would take 25 years, that’s how big it was. It had everything. In these parks you could not even tell you were in a space craft, you would think that you were in a park, Agora Hills California, Rocky Mountain National Park, Central Park (although I wouldn’t necessarily want to hang out there) but without the crime. And they are complete unto themselves everything is grown aboard the craft.

So, when they come here and they send a team down to the surface of a planet and they say,

“Ok, we are setting up an Eden, because we’re going to leave a team of you here to research the plant life, the geology of the planet, the minerals, what it has.”

What they do is they literally drop... as many as 12 type cylindrical antennas.

They plant these antennas down into the ground, at least a mile, into the ground. And when they flip these things on, they connect. And when they connect they create a dome, a frequency dome.

And then all they do is they unload the plants, the fruit trees, everything they need, and this biosphere is exactly to match their physiology. It doesn't have too much oxygen, it doesn't have too much carbon, it's exactly what they need. It can even be hydrogen because then, once they leave they just wear a space suit and they can go out and do their work.

But when they come back from doing their work, they come back to their bio-sphere and it's like living on the home planet. This is what I am talking about; this is what an Eden is. This is what Richard Hoagland has been talking about all those years, with the dome structures; this is what these things are these things were for, exactly. It's good stuff, it gives me the chills!

The very first one was founded in what is now North America, along what is now known as the New Mexico-Arizona border. And it was founded by and established by the Ciakar, which are [a] hydrogen based life form, so they had to have something like this. Hydrogen is a gas; it is not something we can use.

Our physiology would not allow us to breathe it and live in an environment like that.

But hydrogen beings tend to be very large, a little bit slower in movement, their body frequency, the rhythms of their bio-system tend to be much slower than O<sup>2</sup>, and the one thing about hydrogen based life forms is that they cannot go faster than the speed of light in space travel. O<sup>2</sup> have been known to go four times the speed of light. That's been a real problem for the hydrogen based beings. In lectures years ago, I talked about how prejudice is an extraterrestrial perspective. All the prejudices we have, we've learned.

We've formed some of our own, but the initial "not liking any of your own race" was taught to us by these guys millions and millions of years ago. This first Eden was created 899,701 earth years ago by the Ciakar in New Mexico/Arizona border. The reptilians still fancy the desert. This bio sphere was first inhabited by... the reptilians civilization is a caste system. It is a monarchy, but it is also a caste system and you will find that it is stunningly similar to those in England where you have royalty. You have the officer class, which is your dukes, your earls. Then you have your peasants who do all the dirty work, who literally do all the work. It is exactly like that. According to Moraney, this first bio-sphere was built by the officer class of reptilian beings and they were the first to stay here. It was not actual royalty. And something else he added as an after thought is that they do not experience childhood. That's probably why they are all tweaked.

Wars of enforcement

In the human race a war of enforcement is where someone, whether it is a human race or a reptilian race or a hydrogen breather, or an oxygen breather or a methane breather or an ammonia breather. If they cross the line and do something so severe, they will literally go to war to enforce a punishment, to enforce something, a restriction, they will do that. What is going to be happening here in our solar system in the next couple of years is being classified as a war of enforcement. It is not a police action; they are coming in to kick butt, because they have crossed the line. And we are not the only star system; there are 21 other star systems that are having the exact same problem that we are having. They want all regressive presences off our planet and the Moon, completely out of here, end of story; they want them out of here.

If it is true that the moons of Mars are no longer in orbit around Mars and that they are in fact in orbit around Earth, then something major is about to happen.

Q: Aren't people seeing them?

AC: Apparently they are, people are taking photographs, and people are seeing it.

I, myself, have not, but I live too close to Denver and there are a lot of city lights. But there are people back east who say they are seeing them, and people in Europe who are seeing them. The solar eclipse in Turkey, several years ago, European reporters who were taking pictures, got pictures of these two objects.

And when they were blown up they look exactly like Phobos and Deimos, following the moon. They are both space craft, an old hollowed out planetoid converted with an ecosphere on the inside and propulsion on the outside. It's an older model; you can find them on any good used spacecraft car lot. (Laughter).

According to Moraney, and this was many years ago before their alleged re-entry into our atmosphere or gravitational field, Moraney had said that the last time that Phobos specifically, he didn't mention Deimos, had entered the Earth's atmosphere or gravitational field is when the great plague began. There are all kinds of records of space craft flying through space at this time, William Brambly "The gods of Eden" has it in his book. They talk about star ships flying through space dropping the spores. It's a weeding out. I want to cover a couple of other things before I get to the other races.

Dolphins and Whales

In our galaxy they are honored as sentient animals.

They are brilliant philosophers and poets. And we think they are just big, dumb fish, but apparently they are absolutely amazing, amazing mammals. They have the admiration of many of the old races for their beautiful songs and storytelling. They have legendary stories of the whale dream, which is the cetacean race memory. So they tell stories about their lineage, which they call "whale dream". If the humans of earth make extinct these species, they will have no standing in the galaxy. (Star Trek).

Some of these writers are clued in. I don't know where they are getting this stuff, but they are totally dialed. And the same for dolphins. We don't know their language; it's an extremely sophisticated language, more sophisticated than the English language. It's a trinary language, which is why we don't understand it, because we are so one-dimensional in our language.

Whales and dolphins originated in Cygnus Alpha.

Smaller star systems which orbit around the central suns of Daneb, Sidar, Denaia and Alderia are where they come from. The largest population of whale and dolphin life is right here. Within this collection of smaller stars are thousands of star systems. They wanted to migrate, they wanted to explore other worlds, they wanted to add to the whale dream. They were brought here millions of years ago and they are recording. My understanding is that when they birth the young they teach them the song and the song is the story of their lineage and the history that they have learned of the home world that they are on. That's the song that they sing. They are singing the song of the lineage. It's one right after the other; they teach them everything they know. It's absolutely amazing...

Several thousand years later, actually a couple hundred years later, Orion established an Eden here from the Orion star system. In Orion they come from Rigel and Betelgeuse, that's these systems here [pointing to the Orion Constellation]. The star we call Rigel, the Orion's name for this planet is "Cycloplisis". In their tongue, it is called Cycloplisis. Whenever they go to a formal function of a galactic event where there are other star races there... the proper way that they introduce themselves, and this is what the Andromedans do and apparently it's tradition and it was done and everyone, whether they are enemies or not have agreed to these specific introduction traditions so that there are no misunderstandings. So they have created traditions and everybody does it, no matter what, this is what they do. You introduce yourself, you give them your full name, any rank or office, and the star system that you are from.

So, "Alex Collier, father (I don't have a rank or an office), Sol System, Terra 3."

That is how I would properly introduce myself, so whoever it is that I am introducing myself to, knows who I am and where I am from. If you are an extra-terrestrial, most of them are telepathic, therefore, they are giving the same information but as they are giving the information they are also flashing star maps because that is what is in their head. And the other races immediately ack-knowledge that because they get all that. Orion established their first Eden in what is now called “Euromani” China. The date: 763,132 years ago. Shortly thereafter Capella, also part of Ursa Major, Ursa Minor, the Capellans established their first full operational Eden 741,237 years ago and theirs was established at the base of Mt. Yogan in southern Chile. (Cerro Yogan, one of the highest peaks on Tierra del Fuego, rises to only 2,469 m - 8,100 ft) Next are the Vegans (no, this is not a plant-eating race) [Laughter] they are from Vega, they are also known to us as the Lyrans, who are literally our human ancestors.

They established their first colony 701,655 years ago in North Africa, along what is now known today as the Libyan/Niger border. And I want you to know that on an archeological perspective, in Ethiopia there are absolute amazing things yet to be dug up there that have been left behind, that the cavemen did not build. Next we have the Cassiopeians: 604,003 years ago. This is an entirely insectoid sentient race as Algeria North Africa. Next is “Butese” [spelling uncertain]: Nibiru as we know them today. They established their first Eden 585,133 years ago in Cairo, Egypt. Then Orion sent another team here 87,300 years ago which was established in Perth, Australia. The Earth was not in the position that it is laying in now. If you were to take the planet as it is today and literally lay in on its side this is where they were colonizing, but these are the locations that we know today.

Some of the colonies, after they had been here for some time, they packed up and they left, they got all the information they wanted. But the Earth is in constant flux. Many of these are hydrogen-based, hydrogen-breathing extra-terrestrial races. So when they go to their home planets, its dull compared to the very complex eco-systems that O<sup>2</sup>, oxygen-breathers have and live with. They are extremely fascinated and according to Moraney what they were trying to do was to not only study the vegetation and life forms here in oxygen breathing eco-systems but they were also trying to genetically manipulate them so that they could take them home and make them hydrogen.

That’s what a lot of this was about. This is where they became master geneticists, trying to convert O<sup>2</sup> life forms to hydrogen life forms. Because we are blessed, oxygen breathers are blessed with very complex, magnificent eco-systems. Lyrans came back 83,400 years ago. Has anyone ever been to Basque country?

Their language, nobody knows where their language came from; it is an ancient Lyran tongue that has survived, it’s extra-terrestrial. In fact all of them are, but that one is still really close to the original tongue. Orion came back again 73,414 years to Mt. Neblina on the border of Venezuela and Brazil.

71,933 BC: Lemuria is founded as a collective colony.

Many of these races decided, “Ok, let’s just pool our resources.” And they moved their Edens to a continent in the Pacific. Those star nations were:

- Lyrans
- Sirius A
- Pleiades: races from,
  - Teygeta and
  - Merope specifically

Those two star systems [from Pleiades - point to star mount].

Well a lot of people are fascinated with the Pleiadians, well I’m not.

But I’m going to be talking about them in a little bit. Ursa Minor and Butese [other two star systems], which is Nibiru (this is 71,933 BC) Lemuria is established as a collective colony, so now everybody is working together. It’s a good sign, however it didn’t last.

57,600 BC Atlantis is founded.

Somewhere between the establishment of Lemuria and the establishment of Atlantis the Pleiadians get pissed off and they leave, a misunderstanding. They come back to the star system and Atlantis is founded. It is the Pleiadians again, the Nibiru, Alderbarans, Antariaens, the Hayades, a group from Sagittarius and the Andromendans make a guest appearance. With the exception of Nibiru, all of these are O<sup>2</sup>'s that establish Atlantis. Some of them of Nibiruan tribe are oxygen breathers because they come from Sirius. But those that come from Butese are hydrogen. They can still operate and function as long as they wear a helmet.

- 31,017 BC: Lemuria is destroyed in war.
- 27,603 BC: Atlantis is destroyed.

Q: So in previous time frames that you gave as “years ago” you meant BC?

AC: Yes, it was in my notes, I apologize, I take full responsibility for that, I meant “BC”. I am not going to go into the whos and the whats and the hows and why they destroyed each other. Let's talk about the races. Let's talk about the Ciakar, Alpha Draconis, the ancestral line of the reptilian races in our galaxy. The Ciakar themselves, according to legend, do not know exactly where their home system is either. That's how big the Universe is or the galaxies are.

According to the Andromedans there are a hundred billion galaxies known and mapped in the known Universe. If we can get a 7/11 franchise in each galaxy we would have it made, or a coffee shop, even better, legally addictive stimulants, let's just do that. [Laughter] I am just going to give you some things about several of the races.

The Ciakar

An absolute amazing race, the oldest known reptilian race in our galaxy.

They are, in fact, the only genetic line of their kind that is not extinct. When we talk about that, that's extinct, they have found remnants of others that came after but were extinct. Most of the reptilian civilizations that we know today, in Butese, Orion, Capella are all genetic manipulated half breeds of the original Ciakar race. They stand 18-25 feet tall and can weigh up to 2,500 pounds. They are like Tyrannosaurus Rex. They are monsters. They have black leathery brown scale bellies, they have multiple abdomens, they have whiskers along their chin and jaw line. They have a mating claw and multiple tongues. I'm going to give you some very specific information. They lay eggs and what is called a battle hormone is used to accelerate the birthing process. They are a duality. This is why ancestral females did not participate in war, because if they did, there wouldn't be anybody there to help with the eggs. They also had to be there to secrete this hormone. I am only sharing with you what I know about them. Stronger young females were expected to defeat and kill older and weaker leaders in ritual combat. The Ciakar race is ruled and managed by genetic lineage. Genetic lineage always follows the mother, because you always know who the mother is, you don't always know who the father is. In that particular line the gals have all the say. Ruled by the monarchy of a queen genetic lineage they are one of the most powerful races in the galaxy. They have some of the greatest military might that has ever been seen in the galaxy and most of the clan members are zealots and will do anything for the glory of their clans, of their lineage. They have been the chief enemy of all human races in this galaxy in past conflicts.

Again, we are talking about hydrogen breathers vs. oxygen breathers. They have three spinal columns. One spine is located ventrally near the stomach; the other two are located dorsally on the left and on the right of the Ciakars body. Spinal columns join near the dorsal of the geometric center at the extreme posterior of the trunk to form a long and very powerful tail. Inside of the hands are claws of the Ciakar are jelly-like sacks that excrete the various hormones and substances when the Ciakar is aroused, either for sex or for battle. The primary purpose of these enzymes is to initiate encrusting of sperm. [Laughter] There is an amazing amount of life out there. They look at us and they think we are beasts as well, honestly.

The Lyrans

Now, I am going to talk about the Lyrans. When I am talking about the Lyrans and the human race as a whole, I am talking about us and our ancestors and all the ancestors of the ancient Lyrans genetic line. Before I even get to that I am just going to read the first sentence that I have on humans. The Human Race is unusual in having all of its member's races derive from one genetic line. That is an amazing thing. Now, let's talk about the Lyrans and then we can talk about the humans some more. Their skin color is amber, blue and/or red. The color of the stars in their planetary systems is what caused their skin tint to change, depending on the frequency and the UV, ultraviolet scale of their stars. They are of mammalian descent. They are the only human race to have full empathy senses and full psionic abilities and have experienced "quantum probability control."

I'm still working on what that means [Laughter] you have to remember these are extraterrestrial races who know all this stuff. They are also considered today a retired race that has very little intercourse with other main civilizations. In the past, on Earth, they were known as Bodhisattva. They have been known to monitor and provide guidance for some planetary systems. Some planetary systems today see them as their protectors and guides. They are worshiped in other words. What is interesting is that the Lyrans prefer to live on ringed worlds. They have a preference for it. On the Andromedan Council they are known as an elder race, which carries great prestige on the Council, because extra-terrestrial civilizations, ladies and gentlemen, really pay close attention to genetic lineage.

Now we are going to talk to the human race as a whole, how the Andromedans see the human race. The human race is unusual in having all of its member races derive from one genetic line. This accounts for the remarkable casual interactions of the great human civilizations, but for better or for worse, human galactic civilizations, even if they compose a single clan have diverse evolutionary histories.

Each culture is very different in the way they have evolved. Not as a species, but as a culture. Misunderstandings and conflicts have occurred. Traditions exist to minimize the likelihood of misunderstandings and to lesson the negative consequences of any miscommunications that might occur.

So they were sentient enough to know that they had to put things in place to try to minimize human vs. human war. In addition, the behavior of individuals does reflect on the species and the clan. This is an Andromedan human race sharing this with us that the actions of individuals of those races do reflect on the entire clan. None are faulted for polite or proper behavior. Informality is always at risk of being misconstrued or miscommunicated.

The traditions of human interaction were developed by the ancestors over the ages. When an elder race insists that a new civilization observe traditions; for example: The Andromedans come down they introduce themselves, they say "ok, boys, it's time to go to the show."

The show being the Andromedan Council, we are being asked to be invited to the Andromedan Council. What they will do is they will teach us the tradition, the proper way of introducing yourself, of acting before all these civilizations because you will be misinterpreted if you walk in "Yo, man, whaz happenin'?" You will be completely misunderstood. [Laughter] It helps the young races build a culture that will function well in galactic civilization, as well as help guarantee that this young race will become a virtuous and productive member of the Galactic Commonwealth. That is exactly Moraney's verbiage, I took it word for word - the Galactic Commonwealth. It is important that all humans be as polite as possible. This helps both the young and the old cultures because many of the old cultures are socio-biologically dependent on ritual. They have become so conditioned that this is just the way you do it. Their traditions are so deeply embedded that they are not going to change.

We have that same situation here on our planet. And can be psychologically disturbed by informal and rude behavior. If the occasion calls for it apologize and then speak only when spoken to. Never touch a fellow elder race person unless you are specifically asked to. That leads me to something I was taught when I was brought on board and I met other races. This is what the Andromendans do when they meet another race. And I was taught to teach this to everyone here which I've done, and I am going to do it again. When you have a contact and you are standing before an extra-terrestrial or extra-terrestrials you stand yourself square, you bow, never taking your eyes off of them and you say:

"It is the manner and custom when entering my space that permission be asked".

You say it very clearly, because what you are doing is you are declaring your sovereignty and you are declaring your space. Alright, because we are not that well thought of, so it is important to do something like this. You have ten seconds to make a good first impression.

"It is the manner and custom when entering my space that permission be asked."

We would have to say it verbally. They would probably respond telepathically.

Q: And if we didn't say that?

AC: There is always the possibility that your space would be violated. The Greys (Dows) would, absolutely. But nobody knows to do that.

And besides they wouldn't approach you that way, they always steal you out of bed because they are little frigging cowards. No, I don't have any charge on that. [Laughter] Most human galactic races have three languages and these difference markers are: formal, informal and differential.

- The differential apparently is what is used in a lot of politics, galactic politics.
- The formal is when you are addressing your own race, like state of the union; it is also when you are talking to elders. If I am a young Terran and I am addressing an elder of my race, I am to use the formal.
- The informal, is informal, "Yo blood, whaz happenin'?" [Laughter]. The informal marker is not used ever in public.

Always ask if both parties are comfortable with the informal language. I would have to say, "Mike, do you mind if I talk trash?" And Mike would have to say "Sure, man, talk trash." [Laughter] Then we are both agreed and I can talk trash. It's probably a bad example...

The formal marker is always used in public because you always want to regard your partner in conversation as worthy of respect. The prestige of a mature race is always subject to debate. The first measure of the general rule of prestige is number one the age of the race.

The second index is the race's lineage. It all comes back to genetics.

The third index is the number and size of the race or the clan or the tribe. In standard introductions, always include identification by full name, species name, any relevant titles, and your home planetary system.

Species name and planetary system, e.g., Sol, Terra 3: because our star is known as Sol. We are Terra which is third planet from the sun. If you were in Mars you would say "Sol, Terra 4." I am going to talk about the Greys, the Dows; D-O-W is how the Andromedans refer to them. The Dows are the Reticulums [from the constellation of Zeta Reticulum].

The Andromedan word for this particular race, when tweaked and converted into English is Dows, they are known as the Dows. They are a militant race known to be very hostile to humans. Humans have never been able to successfully negotiate with the Dows. I am sure that our military wished that they knew about this in the 50's. They made agreements, they signed treaties, and the Dows have never kept one of them, but they are so technologically advanced that we are having a hell of a time getting rid of them... They are known in the inner circles as a pain in the ass. (That's informal). Most avoid them at all cost. They have little empathy, if any at all, for human races. And believe that unworthy species will one day be exterminated. They have participated in all "Wars of Enforcement." I want you to hold that thought. We will come back to that. The original ones are hydrogen. The little ones, who do most of the dirty work, are of course, just organic clones. They have been genetically bred to do the dirty work in O<sup>2</sup> atmospheres. They have participated in all the Wars of Enforcement declared by the reptilian alliances. Humans have also had Wars of Enforcement, and have been attributed with three accidental extinctions in the last ten thousand years.

Let me read it again. The Greys have participated in all Wars of Enforcement declared by the reptilian alliances and have been attributed with three accidental extinctions in the last ten thousand years. It doesn't say who, so I am not going to say it was humans because I don't know that. The fact that they exterminated a race is enough for me. They are under investigation for excessive genetic manipulations of at least two races, your Earth race being one of them.

[Editorial Note: Missing material ends here. It may not be inappropriate to speculate that some extraterrestrial group did not want you to read from the start of this transcript to this point]

... And something else he added as an after thought is that they do not experience childhood. That's probably why they are all tweaked.

Hydrogen life beings felt threatened by O<sup>2</sup> life forms because O<sup>2</sup> life forms have a much faster rhythm. Hydrogen can only travel at near space light speeds. They cannot go beyond that. O<sup>2</sup>'s can go as fast as 4 times the speed of light. H<sup>2</sup>'s are much smaller and slower and more numerous because of a higher frequency of suitable bio-spheres. There is trade between oxygen and hydrogen breathers but very disastrous wars have been fought between these two civilizations in the past. The Andromedan Council is held in the star system of, the constellation of, Andromeda. And it is here at (mi rosh?) This is where the Andromedan Council is held. This is also where the star systems of Zenitae (?) exist. This is where the Andromedan people live. The Andromedan Council was created to study migration and to try to limit contact between hydrogen and O<sup>2</sup> races and hence, to stop conflict between the two great orders of organic life. Communication between the two species at times remains quite difficult. That's how it got started.

Q: [Question about talking with hydrogen life forms and should you talk very slowly]

AC: Yes, you should. And you absolutely want to use the formal, polite language so that nothing you say is misunderstood. You will know that because they will be wearing some kind of an apparatus over their nostrils and those nostrils could be almost anywhere, depending upon the species. If they are wearing a suit or some type of a helmet, then you can assume that it is Hydrogen, or Methane, or Ammonia, because if it is an O<sup>2</sup>, he will not need that apparatus.

The Andromedans

These are just some brief notes and then we are going to do some questions. They are tough, honorable, courageous fighters. They build massive ships to environmentally resemble worlds: comfortable, solid, endurable craft (these are my own words). They are model galactic citizens. They are responsible to a fault. They tell you they are going to do something; they will do it, even at great cost to themselves. They are very active in galactic politics and enjoy considerable influence in galactic institutions. Institutions have been set up, especially with O<sup>2</sup> civilizations. Those institutions are:

The Institution of Civilized Warfare

Upliftment (they don't use the word "ascension")

Migrations (which is colonization)

Traditions

They are very patient, thoughtful and above all, careful.

They have been responsible for the official stoppage of hostilities in many wars and assisted in the withdrawal of all forces that were in those conflicts.

Upliftment. A lot of people here on Earth in the New Age circles talk about ascension, but nobody really knows what the ascension is.

They know that there are higher densities and that all of us are striving to reach a higher frequency in the hopes that we will move into a more evolved society, become more evolved ourselves and become more expanded consciousnesses, because sometimes third density is just too damn hard. I acknowledge all that. All of that is correct and there is archeological evidence in the galaxy of races that have actually changed their frequency and moved to a higher level. That is a fact, but it is not called ascension. It is called “Upliftment” and apparently none of the races that have done this have done it by themselves. They have always had someone help them out of the mess they are in; reach down and basically mentor them to the next level.

Q: Does that mean that they don't have a physical body anymore?

AC: No, they have a physical body; there is physicality in all the dimensions. There it is. You don't just move up to fourth density and fifth density and now you are this little cloud blowing with the breeze; it's not like that at all. It is as solid as this, it's just completely different. The physicality is different.

The physicality is much bigger; it is on a much grander scale. The color spectrum where we live now is 72 different frequencies of color. Fifth density is 123. There are colors, things that I have seen that I can't explain. There is just no way, because there is nothing here to compare it to. I want to do 15 minutes of questions and then I am going to turn it over to Mr. [Mike] Russ.

Q: I want to ask about the Dogons and that whole Sirian thing, where the Dogon tribe in Africa say they communicated with the Sirians.

AC: They had maps before we even knew that Sirius existed. I am not aware of that at all, that they have an actual fishtail, no.

Q: You mentioned the Upliftment. Do we know who or if we are being helped with the Upliftment.

AC: I think that is a definite possibility.

Vasais said to me once before he crossed over that our specific terran race was one of the most promising human species that they had seen in a very long time. Despite all of the other crap, we were one of the most promising. However, I'm giving you my own opinion now, based on what I know, I don't know this as fact. But, if the Andromedan Council does what they are planning to do 'next year' and try to remove all regressive extra-terrestrial presences off the planet and the moon, if they do in fact do that, Morenay has said that they are planning to just sit up in space, we will all see them, and just watch us for two to four years in our time. What they want to do, is they want to see how we are going to react with each other when we are not being manipulated. Will we, in fact, come together? The point that I made this morning, was there was a period of 300 years where there was actually no extra-terrestrial intervention and what happened? We dusted off the monarchies of Europe and we created the United State of America. The United States of America, Ladies and Gentlemen, was never supposed to happen. It was an accident. It was never supposed to happen. The Royal Families of Europe who are connected to the extra-terrestrial lineages were never supposed to loose control, never. And once America opened up Pandora's Box, a lot of people followed. Because we had all been sick of the tyranny, and we still are.

Q: Is there anything you want to say about shape-shifting, the Royalty, Draconians, that sort of thing?

AC: I had this conversation earlier as well, with a member of our audience.

Shape-shifters:

- Does technology exist where someone can create a holograph around themselves? Yes, the technology does exist.
- Is that technology presently being used on Earth? The answer to that is no.
- Can a person, a regressive entity take over a human body? The answer to that is absolutely yes.

And the process is actually very simple.

They abduct someone, they bring him to death very slowly, and the moment his last breath, his essence, leaves the body, they replace it with another. Several moments later, that body will rise off the table, it will be the same physical body, but inside, it has a completely different agenda, because now it is a different soul. That technology does exist.

Q: Would you call that a walk-in?

AC: Yes, I would.

Q: Would they have the memory of the original body?

AC: Yes, they do.

But my understanding is that there is anywhere from three to seven months where there is a transition period. And generally, when it happens to a major figure, they will be out of the limelight or be very rarely seen, because they are still adjusting. Let's talk about that some more. The word is: I saw him turn into a reptilian, I actually saw the reptilian. That's probably very true. That doesn't mean that they are actually reptilian and they are using technology to look like human beings. It is a human body. But you have to remember something. Reptilians are not used to the extremes of emotions; they don't have emotions like we do.

In fact many of the human races out there don't have the extreme of emotions that we do. So what happens is that if there is a situation where the body gets excited, because it is a human body, that is what it does. It is this huge antenna. When it gets excited the reptilian soul inside doesn't know how to act, so he probably either gets frightened, or he gets alarmed. And when he does that, because they are extremely powerful souls you see a projection of themselves in their auric field, you will see it, because they are not used to the emotions. (read David Icke work). They don't know how to handle it and that is part of the transition period. That's what I have been told.

Q: Can an original reptilian have sex with a human being?

AC: Yeah, but no offspring will come of it. If there is offspring it is because there was a genetic manipulation.

Q: Why would they do it then?

AC: I actually don't know that it actually has been done, but it can and they do have a phallic.

Q: I have run into that with some people.

AC: Could be. Maybe they have been watching humans do it, they see the heightened emotion and passion, the rush that we get at that moment, and they are trying to experience it themselves.

Q: They seem to be attracted to different races on Earth, why, are they different combinations of this 22 or what?

AC: Yes, they are.

Q: Do you know what aliens are what?

AC: We know some of them. I am not prepared to talk about that tonight, but we will do it really, really soon. I promise within probably 4 weeks, it will be up on the website. I'm extremely motivated to create a scorecard, so everybody knows who everybody is; especially if this thing is coming down. We need to know, or at least the information needs to be available. Those who want to know will find it.

Q: You don't have to answer this, but are the Caucasians all from one stream, or are we a mixture as well?

AC: We are a mixture, we all are. We are all a Heinz 57. With a moderate to good temperament when we are left alone and not provoked.

Q: There is some suggestion that we will take the planet back.

AC: It is going to be handed to us, but what we do with it after that will be entirely our responsibility.

We will be handed back the planet, I know for a fact that discussions of a download of all of humanity has and is being talked about, where everybody is given exactly the same data of who we are, where we are from, who these beings were and how we have been manipulated. They are going to basically say, ok, here is the truth, and I don't know how many people are going to be able to handle it. If that happens, they have talked about it. I know that there will be some contact of some sort after the extraction occurs. Then they are going to withdraw and they are going to watch us. Now, we will be totally self-responsible for this. Depending on what it is that we do with each other and with our own eco-sphere, bio-sphere, if we are not responsible, they are not going to help us.

Q: That was the galactic debate.

AC: Yes, it is exactly the galactic debate and that is the compromise they came to. They don't honor themselves, they don't honor each other, they don't honor their home, what is their value. That is exactly what was presented. They have been manipulated from the get-go.

Q: What if it is a few people that take the responsibility, but not the majority?

AC: That's why I am kind of hoping that they are going to do the download. Because everybody will know and all of us will be starting on page one. It would be a huge help.

Q: Did you say this is going to happen 'next year'?

AC: The date that they gave me was August 12, 2003. The reason they have given me that date, that specific day, and I didn't know about this until a couple years ago, why that date, was... remember the Philadelphia Experiment and they sent the Eldridge through time and they ripped a hole in time? They created a portal that was never supposed to be there. Some of the regressive races that are here and have been in other places in the galaxy were sucked in through that time hole and they are literally out of their own time. And the idea is to round them up and literally say, OK, we are either going to take care of you here and now or you are going to be allowed to go back through that hole, because it opens on that day.

Q: Is it 60 years?

AC: Yes, so when that hole opens they are going to have the opportunity to back to their time to where they belong. The hope is that they will do it and the thought is that they actually will do it. Once that hole closes there are apparently galactic races that have been recruited from outside our galaxy who know how to fix it. And they are already here, apparently, and as soon as that hole closes they are going to seal it forever so that it never opens again. It didn't cause problems just for us; it caused problems for everybody because it created a bridge between two different times.

Q: What will we experience on that day?

AC: That's a great question. (laughter) That's a really, really great question and I have absolutely no idea. All I can tell you is that unless I hear otherwise I will be taking that day off of work. If it has been postponed, I will go to work. If I haven't heard any change in the schedule, I will not be going to work that day.

Q: Is there any correlation between this event and the approaching of Planet X?

AC: That is a great question too. Planet X: two years ago, and I am on the record as putting this on the website, a portion of the Nibiruan Family, the Enki line, approached the Andromedan Council and asked for permission to enter our solar system to retrieve mining equipment and other materials that they had left behind when they left here.

There was a considerable amount of debate. The Andromedan civilization itself was staunchly against it because the Nibiruans are not known for keeping their word.

However, the Andromedan Council itself ruled OK. We will allow them in. And they are in fact coming. What is coming is not a planet; it is an intelligently guided planetary size craft. It can maneuver, it can change direction, it can come and go anywhere it wants. It is not in an orbit, like we have been taught.

Q: So it can't hurt us.

AC: It can hurt us, if it comes too close to us. Its field will cause a lot of problems here.

Q: Is it as big as they say?

AC: Sure.

The Andromedans have told me of races that have mother craft from the Andromedan Galaxy that are twice the size of Jupiter that house over a billion beings on it. That's amazing; I can't imagine being stuck with the same people. Let me finish the Nibiru thing. They are coming, what's going to happen, I have no idea. I can honestly tell you this, though; the Andromedans expect them not to keep their word, to just pick up their mining materials. Much of that mining material is in the rings of Saturn for the record. Exactly what is a regressive? How do they know who is a regressive extra-terrestrial or hybrid?

The Andromedans monitor; when they send in their teams to start studying a planet, a race, for induction, for mentoring, what they do is they monitor their chains of thoughts. And it is by their chains of thought that they can tell who is evolved, who's regressive, who's benevolent, who's empathetic, etc, etc, by the chains of thoughts. They have technology that literally is more than a picture of a brain wave. It's like a photocopier. It literally takes a brainwave and takes a picture of an intent and of a thought. And if they see a chain of thought that is very regressive, they are marked and they know exactly where they are and who they are on this planet. They know exactly. And they are not the only ones; there are other races that are part of the Council. There are 38 different races in our solar system and just outside of it right now. And they are all sharing data and they are just waiting to find out what is going to happen here.

Q: Like Hitler would be considered a regressive?

AC: He would be considered a regressive, but is he a walk-in? If he is not a walk-in, he stays; we will have to deal with him. If he is a walk-in he is out of here, because he is not the birth soul. Are we all clear on that?

Q: What about the Illuminati?

AC: Many of them are walk-ins. But there is one family and I have been told not to say, because it would get me in a lot of trouble. But I am going to tell you the circumstances. There is one family where the children are birthed of a line and when the child reaches three years of age the exchange takes place. This same family is basically used as a carrier. They are not the actual genetic lineage, but they have been propped up to be 'the genetic lineage.' Do you follow what I am saying?

They have been propped up to be the actual lineage because that is the lineage that this particular race has chosen to walk into.

Q: For breeding purposes?

AC: Yes, for breeding purposes, thank you. I didn't want to come right out and say it because it gives me the creeps.

Q: Some Illuminati will be removed and some will not be removed?

AC: The walk-ins will be removed; the actual alien genetic beings will be removed. If they are actually true terrans and they are just sons' a bitches, we are stuck with them because that is our race. The fact that they have a mental psychosis is not a problem that the Andromedan Council wants to deal with. We need to deal with that. We need to take responsibility for our own race. And again it goes back to the traditions. The actions of an individual are a reflection on the clan and the species. And that is what they live by. There is going to be a big learning curve for us if this all goes down the way it might go down. I honestly don't know.

Q: Is there some kind of mark so they know who is regressive?

AC: What kind of a mark?

They don't need a mark, they have their brain waves, they have their chains of thought. What they do is they plug it in. They have their own type of satellite machinery and they plug in this brain wave frequency. And their computers which are incredible monitor every move they make. And they are recording every thought and every action that they make. And they are recording every thought and every action that they make. And they will answer for it.

Q: Do you think that those that are in this room and other rooms similar that you are talking to that the reason for it is that we will possibly be there to help with the transition?

AC: I would think so. People are not going to know how to process the downloads.

Like your devout Jewish people, your devout Christians, they are going to have a really hard time transitioning with this information, because all of their belief systems are going to implode. And they are going to need to process this and it is going to be one hell of an interesting experience for all of us. Organized religion will be gone, it will be gone in a heartbeat.

Q: Some people listening to you are going to think you are a lunatic.

AC: I have been told that, but fortunately my wife and my children don't think so and that's really all that matters. They are going to see extra-terrestrials, they are going to see very large space craft, they are going to see hundreds and hundreds of miles, maybe thousands of miles of mother-ships in the sky. Are they going to look at me and say, "I don't really see that"? And then who is in denial here?

I think that there is a move to really educate people and I think that there are elements within world government that are benevolent, that are really trying to solve a very difficult problem, that are trying to help. I think that is why the Disclosure Project has been allowed to get off the ground, because for those of us that have been studying this information that is the smoking gun. That whole thing is about the speakers, it's about the guys telling their stories, it's not about Stephen Greer. I want to make that crystal clear. I think Stephen has done everybody a great service but it is not about him. It is about the guys on the tape that are putting it on the line. My wife and I talk about this stuff at dinner. We have had Mike [Russ] over to the house several times. We talk about it and the frustration for us is how do we get this information out there? It's hard. All I can do is offer it. I can't make a living at this, that's for sure.

Q: Because we believe we have taken the initiative would it be possible that the Andromedans may want to also include us as spokespeople?

AC: I have been talking to them for 15 years about adding more people to the list (laughter). My understanding is that many people in the next several years are going to be contacted. But depending on the extra-terrestrial lineage that is dominant in your physicality it will be that clan or that star system race that will contact you. That is how it is done, it's all about the lineage. Out there, and it is here, it really is. This has been a pleasure for me. I get a lot of this off my chest and my head (maybe the hair will grow back now!) I just want to say thank you.
